

OKTOBERFEST IN MUNICH – GERMANY

Today, Oktoberfest is the largest festival in the world, with an international flavor that is extremely characteristic of the 21st century. More than 6 million visitors from all over the world take part in Oktoberfest every year.

Moving the festival into late September allows for better weather conditions. Because September nights in Bavaria are warmer than October nights, visitors are able to enjoy the outdoor beer gardens as well as the fairgrounds filled with carnival rides. Historically, the last weekend of Oktoberfest lands in the first week of October and this tradition continues today. Oktoberfest starts on a late September weekend and lasts for three weekends.
